I was born at Fort Campbell, KY hospital where I would eventually come to have a long career as a computer specialist. I was the youngest child of four to MSG Glen & Goldie Weaver Martin; both of East Tennessee. As a child, I attended the United Methodist Church and surrounding Montgomery County schools. While working for the government, I attended Austin Peay State University at nights for numerous years while working on my major in Governmental Accounting and Business Administration.

I have two wonderful children, Corey who lives in Guthrie, KY, and has one son Tristan age 8. Corey works for the American Snuff Co. as the Manufacturing Supervisor of Shipping & Receiving, and a daughter Goldie that is self-employed in Alabama who has 5 sons ranging from 4 to 23 years of age.

As a teenager I worked at Jostens Yearbook Company as a paste up operator, then Ellis Moving and Storage as their accountant before securing a position with the Federal Government in 1982.

I eventually ended up as the Chief of Automation Management at Blanchfield Army Community Hospital, Fort Campbell, KY, and retired after 30 years of service in 2012. During that career, I was a designated four time winner of the 10 Top Most Wired Hospital’s in America from the American Medical Association, and also performed duties as the HIPAA Security Manager for the hospital. I also received the honor of being designated as a Kentucky Colonel from the Governor of the State of Kentucky in 2011.

After retirement I was offered a position that I couldn’t refuse working at the hospital again as the Information Technology Manager under the Office of the Surgeon General and Healthcare Planning Agency for 2 1/2 years before I retired again.

I am a member of the Eastern Star, Historical Society, 1st Families of Tennessee and Indiana, and the Pioneers of Iowa as well as the National Genealogical Society. My hobbies include traveling to historic places, genealogy, scrapbooking, and historic preservation. I restored the historic Cave Johnson home and volunteer much of my free time to updating and republishing the early 1800’s Montgomery County Court Minutes for the Historical Society.

Gloria and her sister Glenda Martin Angus make many trips across the United States researching their family history. They even took a trip to the family castle in Scotland which DNA proved they are definitely descendants of. The McLeod Castle was according to Gloria, very impressive, because it is one of the few working castles left it is very well kept up. (Editor)

New Music – Six or seven of the popular and favorite reels, played by Jordan McGowan have been published by C. D. Benson, of Nashville, and are for sale here by Mr. Lamb, at the City Book-store. We are indebted to the publisher for a specimen piece of this music. We ought to mention that It is written for the piano. The pieces are all very pretty.

Now that Lincoln is elected, we suppose we may look out for the "cession" of our neighbor from the Postoffice. Of course he won't hold office and eat bread at the hands of Abe. Lincoln. His resignation may be looked for every moment. It is one of the calamities inseparable from a Republican triumph. He and South Carolina may be expected to go out together, and each will, no doubt, strive for the distinction of getting out first. We do hope, however, that our neighbor will not "vamoose the ranche" till some provision is made for supplying his place. Indignant as he doubtless feels at the election of Lincoln, and loathing, as he must, the idea of aiding to carry on a government of which such a man is President elect, yet we hope our neighbor will bear in mind the magnitude of our interests, as connected with the Postoffice, and not resign till somebody can be found so far lost to all the impulses of Southern chivalry as to hold office under Lincoln.

FIRE, WATER AND FIREWATER

Combination of the Three Makes Trouble Among Negroes.

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 19. — (Special.) — Yesterday was a red-letter day at the Boiling Spring Nuptial Church (colored). Twenty-seven baptisms were performed, and about fifty pistol shots were fired.

The first shooting affray come up over an old grudge between Mitchell Rives and Robert Lewis. Each fired five shots, emptying his pistol. Lewis was shot in the right arm and in the breast. A mule belonging to Jake Johnson was shot by a stray bullet, and will not live. Strange to say, although there were between 500 and 600 people about them at the time the shooting took place no one else was struck.

A little later in the afternoon when McClellan, who had brought a jug of whisky out with him and was retaining it at 10 cents a drink, observed Martin Carter making away with it across a field, McClellan immediately pulled his pistol and cracked down on the Jug-thief. The only effect of his shooting was to make the latter raise the jug to his lips and increase his pace. McClelland fired six shots at him, but none took effect.

At Home from Manila.

CLARKSVILLE, Nov. 23. — (Special.) —

Private John Baggett, formerly of the First Tennessee Regiment, but Inter of the Thirty-seventh United States Infantry, has just ar-rived on a furlough from Manila. He had been stationed with a part of his regiment at Magaysay, in Southern Luzon, and was shot through the abdomen with a rifle ball when on duty. He takes a very gloomy view of the situation, declaring that it will take at least 150,00 men to reduce the insurrection. He states that there are nineteen men killed in his company, besides several wounded and some missing.

Ed C. Bates, of this city, has just received from his brother-in-law, Corporal Hayden Crouch, who is with the United States army in the Philippines, a couple of Filipino stilet-toes. The weapons are keen as razors and ten and twelve inches long respectively.
